Guidelines for Shift Bidding for Animal Services Officer

PURPOSE

To outline general procedures for the Animal Services Officer classification during the twice annual shift bidding process.

AUTHORITIES

Authority over staff scheduling; including processes and parameters of the shift selection, resides with the Director of Animal Care & Services or their designee.

POLICY

1. All fully trained non-probationary employees in the classification of Animal Services Officer (3252) will bid based on seniority as follows:
  - (a) Number of hours in the classification of Animal Services Officer (3252);
  - (b) If there are two or more individuals who have the same number of hours in the classification, Total City Wide hours will determine seniority;
  - (c) In the event there are two or more individuals who have the same number of Total City Wide hours, the following methodology will be followed:
    - i. The sum total of the last four (4) digits of the employee's social security numbers will determine seniority, with the lowest sum being the least senior and the highest sum total being the most senior.
    - ii. In the event the sum total of the last four digits of the employee's social security number should result in a tie, a random draw shall be conducted consisting only of the employees with the sum total tie. The first drawn name will be the least senior and the last drawn name will be the most senior.
2. Officers may not spend more than two (2) consecutive six (6) month rotations on the same shift, meaning Day Shift and Swing Shift.
  - (a) For example, an employee who has been on the Day Shift for one year (i.e. two (2) consecutive six (6) month rotations) is ineligible to bid for the Day Shift on the third six (6) month rotation.
3. All trainees will be administratively assigned on varying shifts until the completion of training. After training, these employees will be administratively assigned to shifts based on operational need or training requirements as determined by the Department.
4. An employee may be administratively assigned to a shift for reasons including, but not limited to, operational needs or an employee being on extended, intermittent or continuous leave resulting from a worker's compensation claim, work restrictions provided by the employee's medical provider, and/or FMLA

- leave. Employees on extended leave during the time of bid will be administratively assigned upon return until the next shift bid.
5. In the event an existing shift becomes vacant for any reason, there will be no rebids.
  6. On or about the first Monday in February and the first Monday in August, the Supervisor for Animal Services Operations will supply all Animal Services Officers with three (3) items in preparation for shift selection:
    - (a) A copy of these guidelines describing the process that will be followed for the shift bid;
    - (b) A blank schedule showing all available shifts; and
    - (c) A seniority list of employees in the Animal Services Officers classification as determined by Section 1 above.
  7. The Supervisor for Animal Services Operations will schedule a meeting with all Animal Services Officers during the last two weeks in March or earlier to determine the shift selection for the six month rotation beginning on the first Sunday in April, and schedule another meeting during the last two weeks in September or earlier to determine the shift selection for the six month rotation beginning the first Sunday in October. During those meetings, the officer with the most seniority will select first from the list of available shifts, the second most senior officer will select next, and so on until all officers have selected a shift.
  8. If an employee does not select a shift, they will be administratively assigned a shift for that specific rotation.
  9. For the purposes of these Guidelines for Shift Bidding for Animal Service Officers, a "shift trade" shall be defined as an employee trading the entirety of their six (6) month long, ongoing, regularly scheduled work shift with another employee at any point in time before or after the shift bidding process has been conducted. There will be no shift trades allowed.
  10. The Department retains the ability to administratively assign employees at any time for operational needs.

RESPONSIBILITIES
